General Description The Ark is found deep in the Salient area of the Aberdare National Park. The Ark's design is based on the original sanctuary with access via a wooden 'gangplank'. The whole lodge is built to capitalise on game viewing with huge viewing windows or balconies on each floor. 'Cabins' are small but self-contained and all overlook waterholes. In each cabin a buzzer sounds during the night if exciting animals are spotted (there is the option for turning the buzzer off!). A ground level hide allows for stunning photography – a herd of elephant may only be a few feet away – and allows guests to enjoy the sounds (and smells!) of the visiting wildlife. Patient waiting is often rewarded by a variety of animals visiting the floodlit water hole and salt lick including elephant, rhino, lion, leopard, buffalo and bushbuck.
